ABOUT ME

Organized and detail-oriented developer with a strong ability to adapt to new languages and frameworks.

I have experience in both object-oriented and functional programming. I currently work mainly with JavaScript and Python, but I'm also comfortable using typed languages or those requiring manual memory management, such as C. My background as a parkour coach and bartender has shaped my ability to work well with people, stay calm under pressure, and communicate effectively in dynamic environments.
